

Comment posted on a Telegraph article about International Men's Day 19.11.20

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://www.telegraph.co.uk/men/thinking-man/international-mens-day-became-counter-culture-success-story/>. The page content includes a comment form with a "Post comment" button, sorting options for "Newest", "Oldest", and "Top Comments", and two comments from Mike Buchanan and Samantha Williams. A large orange graphic on the right reads "GENERATOR OF ZERO CARBON ELECTRICITY" with a verification link. Below it is a "More stories" section with several article thumbnails and titles. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar, task view, and various application icons, with the system tray displaying the time as 12:13 on 19/11/2020.

As a longstanding subscriber, I must ask why there is no mention in this article of the sixth International Conference on Men's Issues, <http://icmi2020.icmi.info>, a five-day-long online event which ended a few hours ago? 120 "speakers", one video released on the hour, every hour, over the five days.

The organizers included Paul Elam of A Voice for Men <http://avoicformen.com> and Elizabeth Hobson, 32, the inspiring and highly articulate leader of the political party Justice for Men and Boys (and the women who love them) "J4MB"; <http://j4mb.org.uk>.

The video playlist on the J4MB website is here <https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLJMsCrOTpRqgzZSlxFCxDwCxVBzyakCMu>.

"...everyone cares about the issues that affect men and boys."
Try running that one past a few of the more strident feminists
